Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 15 and 32 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 15-17 and 32-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mayer (US20040122810A1).

Per claim 15, Mayer discloses a dating module for used by a communication terminal (3G phones, para. 71), although Mayer doesn't expressly teaches that such 3G phone comprising: a phone list data store for holding phone number indexed based on a nickname identifier, and a user interface and controller, for obtaining the phone number from the phone list data store in response to the nickname identifier being provided by the user, and the phone number to a mobile terminal configured for cellular communication, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have all the aforementioned cell phone features for a user to store all the necessary phone numbers with corresponding personal names such that the user is able to quickly access the personal information. Mayer further teaches that some phone number is kept secret from a user of the communication terminal (protected phone list), such that the user interface and controller is configured so that the phone number is provided to the mobile terminal in a guarded signal (code does not contain the real number) so as not to reveal the phone number to the user.

Same arguments apply, mutatis mutandis, to claim 32.

Per claim 16, Mayer further teaches that with 3G phone, the user is able to establish dates via email or an instant message, short message well-known by using phone number instead of phone call for fear of harassment (see para. 71).

Per claim 17, Mayer further teaches that a system, comprising a telecommunications network including a radio access network, and a user equipment device, wherein the user equipment device is provided in combination with module as in claim 15 (see para 71 and 73).

Same arguments apply, mutatis mutandis, to claim 34.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

Art Unit: 2618

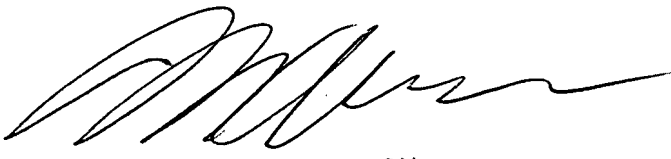

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
